

MOKENA OLDER YOUTHS PLAYED HAVOC OCT. 31

The VFW post of Mokena had in mind giving all youths of Mokena a good time Halloween by giving them a party at the hall. It was hoped thereby that all youths would cooperate with the occasion.

But some thought otherwise. According to Deputy Sheriff Pyle of Joliet there were 20 or more youths, high school age and older, who climbed on the roof of the Paul Wilson home at 50 Front street, Mokena, and did much damage. This building consists of two pitched roofs joined with a valley. This valley was badly broken and four large holes were made in the roof by walking and jumping on it.

Chief Deputy Pyle made the investigation and interviewed two of the boys with their fathers who admitted the damage. Anything as serious as this can not be called a prank, and it is expected when youths are of high school age and older that they will become decent citizens. The boys stated to the deputy they didn't know they were doing wrong. And they, with their fathers, agreed to make restitution.

It is estimated the damage to the roof will run around $75 to $100 and Mr. Wilson has been ordered to repair his roof and to let the sheriff's office know if the wrong-doers do not pay the damage.

Also the same evening this same gang moved a small building from the rear of the Wilson building, ripping a fence in so doing and placed it in front of the Ida's Confectionary store.

In contrast to this, good was done in our neighboring village of Tinley Park when a group of young people called at homes there and solicited soap, thread, cards, books, anything that could be sent to naval hospitals to bring cheer to our fighting men who are there.

SEWAGE SUGGESTION AT TINLEY PARK

At the regular meeting of the board of trustees of the village of Tinley Park, held November 5 in the village hall, the following letter, dated November 5th, 1951 was presented to the board for their consideration:

"For some time the village of Oak Forest has been possessed with sewage nuisances which we have had no permanent solution to. Upon consultation with Mr. Layland, Chief Sanitary Engineer of the Cook County Department of Public Health, and Mr. Swec, Sanitarian of Cook county, it was suggested that since Oak Forest is definitely desirous of securing a proper sewage disposal system, they would cooperate with us in trying to secure such a system.

"It was further stated that the Village of Tinley Park has similar problems and that your Village Board should be consulted to see if you would also be interested in a permanent solution to these sewage nuisances.

"Upon investigation to see if we could join the present sanitary district which now serves portions of Midlothian, and the Oak Forest Infirmary, we found that the earliest this matter could be brought up in Springfield would be in January, 1953. If we wait until that time we then have no assurance that we could get into this district and it is our understanding that the cost would be very high. It was further stated in the general discussion that it might be cheaper to create our own sanitary district providing Tinley Park and Oak Forest were together.

"We know as well as you that these problems have been discussed pro and con for many years but we have made up our minds that we are going to do something in a permanent manner to eliminate these health hazards and continuous flood of requests to do something.

"I have been appointed to secure all desired information as to what is possible and what is impossible, and it would be appreciated if your board is interested, for you to secure someone who might have the time to act on a committee with me. If you select such a person I can secure a sitting with the proper authorities in the sanitary district.

"Hoping to hear from you, I remain,

Richard E. Bobbit, Clerk
Oak Forest, Ill."

Mr. William R. Fitchau, village clerk, will advise the village of Oak Forest, pursuant to motion made and carried by the board, that the sanitary committee would be pleased to have a meeting with them concerning the foregoing matter.

A letter was presented by Coleman Nugent, representing the Tinley Park Home Builders, submitting applications for five building permits, in Parkside, a plan to submit 20 more for that area and tendering a check for $2500.00 as part payment on a sewage plan, based on $100 for each of 25 lots. The letter stated that the Builders felt that action should be taken inasmuch as the Builders have entered into contracts for 26 homes, with purchasers having made substantial down payments and secured mortgages to finance the homes.

In the discussion on the matter it was pointed out by Mr. Krauss that the state instituted action to stop building in Parkside or to install a sewer system; that no concrete steps had been taken to remedy the situation and that if the board accepted the check and a survey is made that the state would see that steps were taken to eliminate the health menace.

Mr. Nugent stated that if the five applications were approved that the Builders would wait until spring for the other twenty. A motion, to issue the five permits, was made by Voris Miller, seconded by Elmer Knudson and carried with the provision that a septic tank be installed for each home, as required by the code and further requests for permits be brought before the board.

The question of the purchase of a second-hand furnace to be installed in the village hall was discussed.

There was a general discussion pertaining to the village water tank which requires repairs. Chicago Bridge and Iron Works has been consulted and further word is awaited with respect to cutting down the top of the tank and re-roofing the same. The bottom of the tank is in good repair, and Mrs. Brown, village president, stated that the pumping station as well as the Cook County Health Department have inspected and approved it.

In 1889 the tank was installed at a cost of $3,000 with subsequent repairs made at an additional cost of $3300. Today the cost would be in the neighborhood of $55,000.

The article appearing in the Chicago Tribune dated November 3 pertaining to the use of DDT powder in areas surrounding milk dairies, was read at the meeting and was filed with the

FRANKFORT BANK IN LAWSUIT

A suit was filed in the circuit court, October 31, by the minority stock holders of the Frankfort State bank, asking for an accounting of commissions, on loans made by the bank, which the stockholders aver should have been reported as bank income. Lloyd P. Lühring was named as defendant, as the administrator of the estate of his father who was the cashier of the bank for many years.

The minority stockholders claim that they have been denied the right to examine the books of the bank although they have asked to be allowed to do so and that they have not received an accounting that they had requested in writing. They allege that the reason for this is that Lloyd Lühring, as administrator of the John Lühring estate, Frank and Henry Lühring, and Herbert J. Lambrecht, who was in the insurance business with the late John Lühring, control 132 shares, a majority of the bank stock.

The minority stockholders claim that some $15,000.00 is due them in commissions on bank loans; that John Lühring, as bank cashier, received a set salary fixed by the stockholders and that he was not authorized to collect any commission for himself.

The officers of the bank are Ben Mager, president; Albert Krusemark, vice president; Frank Lühring, secretary and Beulah Kohlhausen, assistant cashier. Lloyd Lühring was appointed administrator of the estate February 1, 1951, shortly after the death of his father on January 19. He was named as sole heir to the estate valued at $11,500, all in personal property.

The plaintiffs in the suit are Lois Arbeiter, A. C. Bauch, Emma Bauch, Conrad Bettenhausen, Fred Bode, Ida Brookman, Elsie Clelland, Herbert Folkers, Emily Holl, Christ Kohl, Frank J. Kohlhausen, Albert H. Krusemark, Jr., Ben Mager, LeRoy Mager, Alvira Minger, John Rehberg, Anna Scheer, Mae Scheer, John Weindorf and William Wischover.

Surviving beside her husband Fred is a brother Ed. Haas of Marlev; several nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by two sisters, Sophia and Lena and two brothers, Charles and Henry Haas.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the Sonntag funeral home in Joliet with Rev. William Bingham, pastor of the Marlev Community church officiating. Burial was made in the Hadley cemetery.

Services were held in the gymnasium of the New Lenox public school until 1942. The congregation held services in the basement structure but in 1948 the basement was enlarged to seat 150 and a modern kitchen installed, with most of the work being done by members of the congregation.

The super-structure now being built will house the nave, chancel, sacristy organ room and a mother's room equipped with a loudspeaker. The building, 30 feet wide and 96 feet long, is constructed of Joliet limestone, trimmed with Indiana Bedford stone and will have a bell tower at the east end. ## What Wonderful Weather!

After a wonderful autumn, with balmy weather, even as late as last week, this area, in fact all through the state and the nation, was suddenly plunged into severe cold winter weather.

Almost everyone was caught unprepared for this kind of weather; many storm windows not up, farmers unprepared for winter housing of cattle, and there are many acres of soy beans and corn in the fields, which should be in. Everyone is wondering now, since the heavy snow fall Tuesday, when all this work will be done. Temperatures have been ranging around 12 above zero and that is pretty cold especially with winter just setting in.

But this area is not the only place hit by the cold. When Mrs. Rose Moriarty of Mokena called her daughter, Mrs. D. Wessels at Houston, Texas, she said the temperature that day was 34.

Tavern Owners and Handbook Operators Hit by Tax Increase

(CNS) In addition to the pain that all wage earners felt when new withholding tax rates went in effect November 1, and even business owners when they settle up next March 15 under the 11 per cent higher rates, tavern owners and gamblers will suffer a special twinge under the new revenue law, Collector of Internal Revenue John T. Jarecki reminded them.

Tavern owners, or anyone storing tax-paid liquor for resale or use in manufacture, were required to take an inventory at the close of business, October 31. On the amounts shown and filed with the collector they must pay a floor stock tax ranging from $1.50 per proof gallon on distilled spirits, $1.00 a barrel on liquor (31 gallons), and two cents a gallon on wines depending on the alcoholic content.

Handbook operators may as well close up shop. Before November 30 each taker of a wager or his agent (except the football stand kind of bet where all the bettors are present throughout the transaction) must take out a $50 tax stamp, for which he must give his home and business address, which will be available to public inspection by law-enforcing officers, just like slot machine licensees. If he fails to do this, the penalty is a fine of $1,000 to $5,000, not a mere 5 per cent monthly like the slots.

But that isn't trouble enough. He must pay monthly, and report on, 10 per cent of his total wages, regardless of odds, as a tax to Uncle Sam. The penalty is five years in jail, $10,000. No one at Jarecki's office really expects a bookie to turn up.

Student Nurse Recruiting Program Planned

Plans for intensified recruiting of new student nurses to meet the statewide shortage bulked large in the program of the Illinois State Nurses' Association as its 600 delegates from all parts of the state assembled in Chicago November 1 for the organization's 50th annual convention.

Mayor Kennelly of Chicago extended the city's official greetings to the convention delegates at Thursday afternoon's general session, presided over by Ruth Kirk, R. N. of Sterling, the ISNA president.

In addition to tackling the recruitment problem, the convention was prepared to review its recommendations on employment standards, step up plans for a statewide organization of student nurses, and provide series of special meetings for representatives of all branches of nursing to hear leaders in their fields discuss latest developments in nursing techniques.

Illinois Farmers' Outlook Letter

Cattle Calculations
Many farmers are buying feeder cattle (calves and yearlings) at prices averaging around $40 a hundred pounds. They may have to sell them at about $5 less than that figure. What will they make or lose on such a deal? How will the results compare with those from more normal price relationships as, for example, from buying feeders at $20 and selling the fat cattle for $25.

Many farmers, perhaps most of them, would say they would be better off by buying at $20 and selling at $25. But the answer depends largely on costs of gains in the feedlot. Let's do a little figuring.

In most feedlots this year, costs of gains will probably range between $20 and $30 a hundred pounds. So let's use the mid-figure of $25 for our calculations. Let's suppose, too, that for every 100 pounds of feeder cattle we buy we will put on 100 pounds of gain in the feedlot.

If we could buy feeders at $20 a hundredweight and add 100 pounds of gain for $25, we would have a cost of $45 for each 200 pounds of cattle to be sold. With the sale price at $25, this 200 pounds would bring $50. With receipts of $50 and costs of $45 we would have a gain of $5 on each 200 pounds of cattle marketed.

But now the figures are inverted. We pay around $40 for feeder cattle, and we may have to sell our fat cattle for $35. With feeder costs at $40 and costs of gains at $25, our total costs will be $65 for each 200 pounds of fat cattle produced. If the selling price is $35 a hundred weight, our return for 200 pounds will be $70. With a return of $70 and costs of $65, our gain is $5 for each 200 pounds of cattle to be sold.

The gain is therefore the same under either set of purchase and sale prices.

The important point is that in either case the actual profit will depend on costs of gains in the feedlot. If costs of gains rise to $30, our profit is wiped out. Costs about $30 will bring losses with either set of purchase and sale prices.

Perhaps you do not like our figures. That suits us fine. We hope you will use your own cost figures.

Costs of gains can be kept low by feeding for large gains in weight rather than for quick fattening. Many farmers keep costs of gains low by wintering their cattle on low-cost silage and hay pasturing on good pastures during the spring and summer, and finishing with a short grain feed during the late summer or fall.

Again we emphasize the importance of keeping costs low, because increasing supplies of beef and the OPS together seem likely to prevent much increase in prices.

Plant Nutrients Boost Grass, Legume Yields By Two Tons Per Acre

ADDING fertilizer carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash has increased pasture yields as much as 2 tons per acre, declared Prof. C. J. Chapman, University of Wisconsin extension agronomist, in reporting on the results of pasture demonstrations in the state.

On the Henry Berg farm near Blanchardville, in Lafayette County, pastures fertilized with 10-10-10 showed yields of 8,025 pounds per acre on July 5, 1951, compared with 3,750 pounds on unfertilized fields, an increase of 4,275 pounds.

When 10-10-10 fertilizer was added to white clover and bluegrass on the Betlach farm near Sun Prairie in Dane County, pasture yields increased by about 14 tons per acre. The output was 8,025 pounds per acre on July 2, 1951, on the fertilized fields and 2,300 pounds on the check plots.

The pasture demonstrations are being carried on in cooperation with farmers, county agents, vocational agriculture teachers and organizations in the fertilizer industry.

A People Delivered

Lesson for November 11, 1951

ONE of the strange truths about God—strange when we are not used to it—is that he can never be seen directly. No man has seen him nor can see him, the Bible tells us (1 Tim. 6:16). God cannot be photographed or televised. The disc has never been made that will record his voice; it will not be heard on any telephone. Then how do people know God? By the eye of faith, the ear of faith. The Bible suggests that it is God himself who opens men's eyes to his presence, opens their ears to his voice.

Dr. Foreman

God in History

IT is so when we speak of "God in history." The historian can tell us what happened; but why does it happen? The last, the final, the all-inclusive Why? is religion's question; and religion's answer, faith's answer, is always: God.

Take, for example, the well known story of the Exodus, when the Children of Israel got out of Egypt where they had been slaves for about as long as the Negroes were slaves in America before 1863. All historians agree (1) that Israelites were in Egypt; and (2) that they got out.

But the history books do not read like the Bible. In the "Cambridge Ancient History" or in any history of the ancient Middle East, you can read the account of the Exodus with the miracles left out.

Furthermore, the historians never bring God into their tale. All they can tell us is what you could have caught with a moving picture camera or a recording machine. But God cannot be caught that way. The story of the Exodus, in the Bible, has another slant. The Hebrew folk never said "We escaped" or "It was a lucky break" or "Moses took us out." They always said, "God brought us out."

If you had been there when they crossed the Red Sea (the original Hebrew in Exodus does not use the expression "Red Sea" in this story, and it may have been one of the Bitter Lakes or even an arm of the Mediterranean—it makes no difference), armed with your camera and sound-recording devices, you could have caught the roaring of the wind and after long hours of the hurricane you would have seen the water level going back and back till finally solid ground appeared. But when your pictures were developed you would not have seen God.

God in Our History

IT would not do us much good, indeed, it would only make us jealous or bitter, if we thought that God had a hand in the history of Israel, but took no interest in the history of other peoples. Many centuries after the Exodus, the prophet Amos said that God not only brought the Israelites out of Egypt, but he also brought the Philistines out of Crete (Caphtor) and the Syrians out of Kir.

Still later on in the Bible God's hand is said to be leading the great conqueror Cyrus of Persia (Isaiah 45:1-4), even though Cyrus knew nothing of it. God was there, but the eye of faith was not. God is always there; and sometimes the eye of faith is there to see him.

In the history of England two of the most famous events are the defeat of the Spanish Armada, and the retreat from Dunkirk. In each case the English people were to all appearances helpless, just as the Hebrews were helpless at the Red Sea; in both cases, as at the Exodus, "the weather came to their rescue." A great wind swept the Spanish navy to destruction; and a great cloud-cover kept the Nazi airforce pent in until the British army had escaped from Dunkirk.

The weather, say historians. God, say voices of faith. Are not both right?

Side of the Free

IS God on the side of the little nation?

Not always. But taking history as a whole, Christian people have reason to believe as the people of the Bible did: that God hates oppression and violence, and his "hand is against" nations that live by such means. On this Armistice Sunday it is well to remember that. If our cause is just it is not because we never lost a war.

Our cause is just if and only if it is the cause of human freedom. We have no assurance that God will stand by us otherwise.

Plenty of Bass in Palos Forest Preserves by Spring

(CNS) There should be some good size bass in forest preserve fishing areas next spring.

More than 11,000 bass fingerlings, baby bass about 3-months-old and 3 to 4 inches long, were delivered in October by tank truck to the Palos forest preserves. The fingerlings will restock forest preserve streams which were depleted by a heavy winterkill last year.

During the winter, ice and snow covered the waters so long that many fish died from lack of oxygen and food. With sunlight unable to penetrate the heavy ice and snow, many winter plants died, cutting off the waterlife food supply.

By spring the delivered fingerlings should be good-sized bass catches.

October Weather

(CNS) October was warmer, slightly wetter and cloudier than normal.

The monthly report from the U. S. weather bureau shows that the average temperature was almost 55 degrees. And that is about two and a half degrees warmer than normal.

And for November—according to long period records—this is what you can expect during November. The average temperature is 37.7 degrees. The daily range at the first of the month will be from a high of 54 to a low of 36. During the last part of the month the range will be from 39 to 25 degrees.

You can expect two and a half inches of precipitation and about two inches of snow. There should be a trace of snow or more on six days and an inch or more on one day. There should be eight clear days.

Decision Given Illinois Central

the Illinois Commerce commission and State of Illinois to restrain the Illinois Central Railroad from raising commuters fares an average of 19 percent under an order of the Interstate Commerce commission.

After Judges J. Sam Perry and William J. Campbell of the U. S. District court and Justice Philip J. Finnegan of the U. S. Court of Appeals had refused to grant a 10-day stay for appeal, the railroad put the increases into effect at midnight, October 31. The increases ranged up to 50 per cent on a 25 ride ticket from Randolph street to the farthest suburban point, Richton, 29 miles.

Intervening in prosecution of the suit were the city of Chicago, Chicago Heights, Blue Island, Harvey, the villages of Flossmoor, Park Forest, Matteson, Homewood, Hazelcrest and Riverdale, and the Illinois Central Commuters committee. The Interstate Commerce committee intervened for the defense while the United States of America was joined as a party defendant.

The 32-page opinion, written by Judge Perry who has been on the bench less than two months, held only two questions were involved: (1) Did the Interstate Commerce commission have authority to enter its order of July 30, 1951 based on a section covering discrimination in favor of interstate commerce, and (2) did it hold "a full hearing and receive such substantial evidence as would support its findings?"

Auto Dealers Want To Close on Sunday

The formation of a Sunday Closing Committee of the automobile dealers in the Chicago area has been announced by Frank Yarnall, chairman of the committee.

Ninety-five per cent of the new car dealers and 90 per cent of the used car dealers in Cook county have agreed to close their operations on Sundays and holidays, according to James F. Goodwin, president of the Chicago Auto Trade association. This, he said, is the culmination of 10 years of growing feeling in the industry that Sunday and holiday closing would give employees more leisure time without depriving the public of an opportunity to buy automobiles. Since so many people have Saturdays free for shopping and most dealers are also open on Monday and Thursday nights it is no longer necessary for auto dealers to stay open on Sundays and holidays to give people a chance to buy cars.

Forty per cent of the dealers have been closed on Sundays for the last eight or 10 years, Mr. Goodwin estimates. In the 1951 session of the Illinois state legislature a bill was passed requiring Sunday closing of automobile dealers. This bill was vetoed by the governor. Since then the automobile dealers of the Chicago area have been putting on a concentrated drive toward voluntary Sunday closing and 364 dealers have signed a formal agreement that they will do so.

Handy Table Easily Made

AN all-purpose table, quickly put together in the home workshop, will prove mighty handy on the porch this summer. Because the legs fold and the top lifts off, this table has many other uses, too. It's wonderful to take along on a picnic, for instance.

The top, which is 48 inches long and 24 inches wide, is a piece of Masonite 3/16-inch tempered hardboard fastened with waterproof glue and brads to a framework of 1 by 2-inch lumber. Two supports of the same size lumber should bridge the long sides of the framing at intervals of 16 inches.

The cross-arms, also of the same dimension lumber, are joined at the top and bottom by half-inch dowels and at the center by a dowel of 3/4-inch diameter. To hold the legs in the extended position, the craftsman will nail a strip of lumber across one set of legs so that the maximum opening at the floor is 20 inches and the height of the legs in this position is 30 inches.

With the exception of the center one, the dowels may be glued.

This table may be attractively finished with a primer and two coats of exterior quality paint. It may be used not only on the porch, but out-of-doors, in the kitchen, the laundry and other work and recreation areas of the home.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Talks Turkey" -Long Distance

Some people chuckled when Sonny Fisher rented a home recording machine to record the noise his flock of turkeys make.

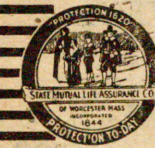

"I sent the recording to a buyer for a super-market chain," Sonny said. "I told them 'My turkeys speak for themselves—listen to this record!' They not only took my birds, but bought the record!"

"Why did they want the record?" I asked him. "Very simple," he says. "They're going to play it over the loud speakers in their stores—and then an announcer on another record reminds the customers that turkeys are plentiful and a good buy."

From where I sit, it's not always smart to make fun of someone just because he does things a little differently. I think a glass of beer is the most refreshing beverage there is. You—or Sonny—may prefer something else. But who's to decide one's right and the other's wrong? Let's stay "on record" that everyone's entitled to his own tastes and opinion.

MM LARGE-CAPACITY SHELLERS ARE BY FAR THE LEADING SELLERS!

It's no wonder that MM Shellers are the popular high-capacity machines for ordinary farm or custom work. They do a clean, fast shelling job and are lightest running. Main drive pulley, cylinder, and suction fan are all mounted on the main, straight-through shaft to eliminate extra drives. MM design of cylinder and cage for special easy action does a smooth, gentle job of rubbing the kernels from the cobs so that cracked corn and badly broken cobs are practically eliminated. Large-capacity sieve and cleaning fan with air regulator and suction fan do a complete job of cleaning dirt and chaff from shelled corn.

Custom operators prefer the DB and EB models that can be mounted on trucks and powered by MM engines or power units. They are easily and economically installed and furnished with a shelling power.

We will be glad to show you how you can chalk up extra profits with your MM Sheller driven by a money making MM Power Unit.

Better Beef By Spraying

URBANA — Blood-sucking horse flies are doing less damage to Illinois beef cattle this year because of a self-spraying device developed by the Illinois Natural History Survey. At left, Clarence Albritton, of Belknap, examines the home-made model of this self-sprayer used on his farm. The burlap, which hides most of the working parts of the sprayer, helps concentrate the spray on cattle as they walk across the treadle on their way to or from water. At right, Willis N. Bruce, state entomologist and designer of the self-sprayer, demonstrates a stripped-down model that shows working parts. A fine mist comes from the sprayer as Bruce places his right foot on the treadle. In a 38-day test in southern Illinois last year, beef cattle kept free of horse flies by a self-sprayer gained nearly a pound a day each more than unprotected cattle. Design for the sprayer can be obtained by writing the Illinois Natural History Survey.
